

UniQuest Pty. Ltd. is the University of Queensland's main commercialisation company. It is also the largest commercialisation company in Australia. Since 1984, UniQuest has built, commercialised and managed an extensive intellectual property and asset portfolio, including more than 1,500 patents and 50 companies resulting from university-based discoveries and expertise.

UniQuest has engaged the AIC's Business Intelligence Service to provide them with market intelligence on a range of different technologies. AIC's Business Intelligence Service has access to more than 130 information providers and databases covering more than 30 global industries.

The Business Intelligence Service offered provides UniQuest with:

- Up-to-date market intelligence on a range of different technology sectors
- Information to assist evaluation and commercial potential of the technology being commercialised
- Research capabilities to support the Uniquest analysts' essential services.

UniQuest has continued to engage with the AIC's Business Intelligence service for more than two years and has provided continuous positive feedback regarding the service and the outcomes and insights achieved.